

“Today, a great thing has happened. When I saw Tamara’s face, I saw joy.”

– Tamara’s grandmother at bicycle distribution

THE POWER OF BICYCLES

As an orphan living with her grandmother in Zambia, Tamara has a simple life, but not an easy one.

Every morning as the sun rises, 12-year-old Tamara builds a fire; fetches water; washes clothes and prepares breakfast for her family. After finishing morning chores, Tamara sets off on a 2.5 mile journey to school. Her favorite subject is English, and she aims to become a teacher.

With a bicycle, Tamara can conquer the challenge of distance and experience the joy of making her own path in life.

In 2014, Tamara received her bicycle along with 100 other students and teachers at Kabulonga Primary School.

Since 2005, World Bicycle Relief has provided more than 200,000 specially-designed, locally-assembled bicycles to students, healthcare workers and entrepreneurs.
